Are you Deaf? Do you like the interpreting process? Interested in becoming a Certified Deaf Interpreter?

What things should a Deaf interpreter do to ensure high quality interpreting services? What kind of interpreting assignment is the Deaf interpreter qualified to perform? What study materials should the Deaf person study in preparation of testing for CDI certification? This track offers an in-depth exploration and practical experience in the application of these questions.

Requirements:

You already have (or will buy) So You Want to Be an Interpreter: An Introduction to Sign Language Interpreting by Janice Humphrey and Bob Alcorn. Please read this book prior the workshop.

Certification:

You will receive a certification of completion:

8 hours of training on the RID Code of Professional Conduct

8 hours of training on the role and function of a deaf interpreter

Jimmy Beldon, CDI, MA, ASLFIRST, llc owner, has been a professional involved in the interpreting field on many levels.
